Turn to the American Red Cross for your flu shot.

Influenza (the flu) is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses. It can cause mild to severe illness, and at times can lead to death. The best way to prevent the flu is by getting a flu vaccination each year.

- Every year in the United States, on average 5 to 20 percent of the population gets the flu; more than 200,000 people are hospitalized from flu complications.
- 36,000 people die from flu-related causes.
- Older people, young children and people with certain health conditions, are at high risk for serious flu complications.
- If you are 16 or 17 years of age, you must provide a written note from your parent or guardian and your physician to receive the flu shot.
- We are unable to administer the flu vaccination to children less than 16 years old.

The cost of the flu shot is $25, or the American Red Cross will bill your Medicare Part B or Medicare Supplement Plan if that is your primary insurance. Credit cards can not be accepted. For more details, please call (816) 931-8400 or see our Web site at www.kcredcross.org.
